For example, the Prosecutor General held a press conference on 25 February 2020 in which he said that the government had suspended the charges μ 63 suspected corruption and human rights violations in consultation with the Prime Minister in order to promote democracy and national unity in the ³. DeKeyser, R. Novelty/Originality of this study: Restorative justice has many benefits, but the concept itself has not been studied in detail. Restorative justice for minors: Potential, risks and problems for the investigation, 19-53. Specifically, Proclamation No 251/2001, i.e. Articles 32 and 33, provides that the parties are to be asked to resolve their conflict by pacĤic means and through discussions whenever their misunderstanding is not in border cases. Third, the disapproval Ā Ā community of erroneous acts is accompanied by acts to reintegrate the offender back into the community of law, fulfilling the citizens through words or gestures of perd- tion or censure to certify the offender as deviant. Scholars have established the concept of restorative justice that sees crime as a violation of the relationship between the victims, offenders and community, and participation of the last and the community is not allowed and also a win-loss result. The collected data was then analyzed thematically. The government has the duty to respect, fulfil and protect the right to access justice. Instead, they are deemed to belong to one category or status out of a wide range of different categories of people such as being a member of the same age-set, or being a part of an important clan/sub-clan, or being a man or a woman or a child or an adult, etc. Islamisation And Democratic Transition In The Post- Revolution Egypt. Moreover, the criminal justice system often relies on it to solve less serious cases like identity conflict, to bring criminals to courts, to ensure that verdicts are upheld and to achieve reconciliation after cases are concluded. Focus - guilt/blame. The Alternative Dispute Resolution mechanism is effective in a functional society, which refers to the existence of direct reciprocity usually in urban and per-urban areas where no traditional justice system had previously existed and in rural areas where the traditional system has broken down. REFERENCE Abubakar. G. Based on these assumptions, the principles of restorative justice are: firstly, every stakeholder has the right to participate through the conflict resolution process. In the case of negotiation and mediation, the principle of fair hearing like adversarial litigation is unthinkable, it is rather the process of working together to satisfy the involved partiesĀĀ mutual interest (Fekadu, 2009). Comp. Therefore, it is defined as simple as applying to formal criminal justice system behaviors as follows:Table.
