

Click to verify

What is fpl water protection plan

Water Heater & Plumbing Protection Plan: Get Covered with FPL Home When plumbing repairs are needed, having a plan in place can help ease financial burdens. The WaterShield program by FPL Home offers optional protection against unexpected water-related expenses. Key Details: - The program is separate from FPL Home and does not affect their service terms. - Annual coverage of up to $1,000 for repair or replacement of interior plumbing due to normal wear and tear. - No installation fee ($600 value). - Potential discounts on homeowner's insurance. - Coverage includes electric, natural gas, or propane water heaters damaged during normal wear and tear. What's Covered: - Up to the benefit amount for covered repairs or replacements. - Applies to sole responsibility for damage to the water heater due to normal wear and tear. Exclusions: - Exhaust venting, jacket, interior doors, expansion tanks, supply piping (excluding flexible), electrical service wiring. - Damage from restricted lines, high water pressure, accidents, negligence, or unusual circumstances. - Repairs to sections shared with third parties or covered by homeowners association policies. Eligibility: - Must own a residential home permanently secured to the ground. - Recreational vehicles and commercial properties are not eligible. - Properties with pre-existing conditions or defects are not eligible for coverage. Your interior plumbing and drainage system is covered prior to enrollment. If your property has multiple units, each unit requires its own service agreement. In a development community with a condo or HOA, check with your association before accepting coverage. Benefits include up to the benefit amount for repair or replacement of damaged plumbing due to normal wear, not accidents or neglect. This doesn't cover appliances, fixtures, or fittings like water heaters, radiators, and faucets. Thawing frozen pipes, non-conforming drain lines, damage from accidents, or unusual circumstances are also excluded. Your coverage starts on the day enrollment is processed, with a 30-day waiting period before you can make a service call. After renewal, there's no waiting period. FPL Home offers this exterior water service line coverage through its subsidiary, HomeServe, which is administered by Northcoast Warranty Services, Inc. On February 28, 2018, it was claimed that repairing an exterior water line costs $2,587. However, HomeServe is not an insurance company but a privately-held company owned by billionaire brothers George and Michael Karfunkel. Their products aren't affiliated with utility providers and are designed to benefit both the utility company and HomeServe financially. HomeServe has faced controversy due to its marketing practices, which have led homeowners to accuse the company of deception. The company's website resembles that of FPL but appears to be misleading. FPLES water heater repair and replacement plan offered by HomeServe, not FPL, is a costly service that covers normal wear and tear but excludes pre-existing conditions and accidents. The plan's exclusions include "acts of nature" like floods or hurricanes, as well as issues with the septic/sewer line, which is more likely to fail than the water line. Angie's List is trusted for "top-rated pros" and verified reviews, making recommendations hard to resist. For instance, our water treatment specialist installed a commercial water softener at the Tarpon Point Nursing & Rehabilitation Center in Sarasota. Contact (941) 355-5400 for residential services that save energy and money. Eligibility requires owning a permanently secured home. Recreational vehicles or properties used for commercial purposes are not eligible if you have pre-existing electrical line conditions, shared lines, or covered by an association. Coverage provides up to the benefit amount for repairing or replacing damaged interior electrical lines due to normal wear and tear. Exterior electrical lines are also covered under normal wear and tear, excluding certain components and repairs. Permanent wiring to detached garages and pool heaters is also included in the coverage. However, repairs to appliances, knob and tube wiring, aluminum materials, or fixtures not plugged into an outlet are not covered. Damage caused by accidents, negligence, or unusual circumstances is also excluded from coverage. Coverage Exclusions Your coverage may be affected by unforeseen circumstances such as negligence, or other factors beyond your control. Additional exclusions apply.