Benefits of the practice of the previous years. Sheets of questions I hope you have successfully downloaded in previous years. You probably know the benefits of the practice of the last few years sheets of questions and champion documents. Perhaps these points will change your mentality if you think there is no use of practicing sheets of questions. Knowing important questions and the paper model The best result that you get by practicing the recent years The question paper is that, you get the exact ideas of what kind of questions are usually asked in board exams. And once you know the important questions from the point of view of the exam, then you can easily, mark good votes. The next thing you come to know is the card template and the format of the board exam, and the trust of me! Knowing the paper model is a very good thing because you don't know exactly how the question card is going to be. Each chapter is necessary, but, how to know what argument is From the exam prospects? Simple, collect more 5 years the sheets of questions and see what questions are asked several times every year in the exams. Do this and ultimately learn about the important chapter questions and wise topic. How to keep up with time? 3 hours are not sufficient to solve a question document if the card is long long Hard, that's why you practice the questions of the questions you give you approximate estimate on your writing speed. In this way you can take measures to improve your speed so you don't have to fight them in the exams. So you see that practicing previous years, questions can take advantage in many ways, so don't let PDF files sit down in your system, try using them as possible. The time you have now is very important, so you need to know how to be productive with your time. Have you ever had the march feeling in your courage when you are wasting time on useless things when you would have done something that is important. That feeling is an indicator you know what time is worth investing time and what doesn't, but continue to waste time, but it won't happen again if you follow the points below. Do right now: - if you have a habit to leave things for later, surely wastes too long. Try to develop the habit of doing the right things when you think you're doing them. Don't think that you will do it from tomorrow or Monday or the next few months, these are the days they never come. Apply this formula into each activity, because only you only develop it as your habit, for example if you are thinking of washing your bike, then do it now. Quality free time: - This is something that everyone needs to keep the mind without stress, you have to have noticed that when you are worried about doing something, then keep thinking even when you are with your friends or with someone else. So keep the light of the head every time you are having a free time, try to live the moment and spend the quality time. Where to invest your free time: - When you have finished studying, or when you decide to take a break, then don't waste that free time do nothing. Spend your free time doing things that give you pleasure, or try to pursue your hobbies or passion like playing guitar etc. But the point is that, you shouldn't feel like you don't like your free time, since this strength to cut time from your study hours. So do something you will really satisfy you in your free time. Don't compromise: - Make sure you don't compromise with you by studying hours, so next time when your friends ask you to join them for a party when you're studying, then they say "to them. If possible, then they gave them to wait until © you are not free. So take care of these points and automatically start to be productive with your time. The best revision techniques if you are reading this part, I assume you ended up with your program. So here are some suggestions and techniques that You can use while you are in the review process. First a chart, you have to make a chart based on which you will make your review. In the graph include the following things: list of chapters according to the wise priority. IE Chapter you think you should do first And proceed in this way. Assign a time limit of about time to each chapter ie how long you think you can finish the revision for that particular unit or chapter. Ass lcurates to assign a practical time limit. You can further divide the graph to the topics of each unit and then decide the time limit for each topic, but don't waste too much time in this way. When the time limit decide, keep in mind that you will practice extra questions and other things related to that unit, so try to be so realistic as you can be. Once you have the audit chart, then perform a calendar according to which you will study. Action time is now the time of action when starting revision make sure you know every and all about the topics you study, try to solve more and more practical paper. Make a separate notebook and note the important question and the keywords from a You can simply write the page number and number of questions instead of the entire question from a book. This will help you make a rapid review before the exam. If you are not six Some ideas about the topic you are reviewing, so this means that the topic is not clear to you, and you have to read it again. If you feel still the same way, so clearly doubts immediately placing your teacher or someone with more experience and knowledge. Don't forget to see things back into your mind at the end of every day, this cement everything that you read in your mind. So this is all that I can think for now, hoping that these suggestions will help you in your review period. I seriously hope that this article was advantage for you, and if not then do not hesitate to comment and suggest what is wrong with the article.
