The co-protagonists Ranveer Singh, Shahana Azmi and Dharmendra were also part of the film programming in the heart of the country. Alia also took some time to watch the famous Brown Munde AP Dhillon singer's concert in Gurugram with Ranveer. Meanwhile, Alia's video is doing a social media tour of a wedding in Delhi. Dressed in a purple funky outfit, she is seen dancing the song of her film Tamma Tamma remix by Badrinath Ki Dulhania. Alia will be in Mumbai for the launch of the RRR trailer on December 3rd. He will join Ram Charan, Jr NTR, SS Rajamouli and Ajay Devgn at the great Mumbai event. Meanwhile, a new video shared by director Karan Johar announces the release date of Rocky Aur Rani Ki Prem Kahani on February 10th 2023. The video offers the public a taste of what is happening on the set of the film. It is characterized by the cast of the film absorbed in He works and engaging Banter in fun during the stop times on sets, stuffing settings and production projects and fusion designer dresses. The video also makes a self-conscious joke and reference to the theme of "Parivar" that are the hallmark of the film by Karan Johar Directorials. Alia, the next film Gangubai Katawadi is ready for February 18th in the cinema. He stars at Arjun in the title role with Tamannaah, Prakash Raj and Kelly Dorji. The film revolves around Badri, an expert warrior made up of a guru and a martial arts expert Bheeshma Narayan. After being made the protector of the temple of Badrinath, Badri tries to revive the faith of Alakananda, an atheist woman who has fallen He, in God and is snointed against his cruel uncle Sarkar, while his Guru suspects him of being in love with Alakananda, something against the rules to become his successor. The film Cora-Stelle Ashwini Kalsekar, Rakesh Varre, Rao Ramesh and Pragueti. Allu Arjun, who plays a modern Indian samurai, [9] embarked on an intense martial arts and sword fighting in Vietnam. [10] [11] This film also marks its first pairing with Tamannaah. [12] Cinematograph Ravi Varman in an interview said that the film was filmed on a lens of Panavision in a set in Kulaba on the road to Rothang pass as well as the Temple of Badrinath, set of Hyderabad and in Spain, Italy, Germany and Austria. [13 ] Previously, it was reported that the film would also have a version nicknamed in Tamil with the play scenes of Attore Santhanam, but the plan was abandoned due to the commercial failure of the Tamil Dubbed versions of Telugu Films Shakti and Magadheera. [14] [15] Made on a budget of A.42 crore (US $5.6 million), it was also one of the most expensive films in Telugu-Language at that time. [4] Previously planned for the release of June 4, 2011, [16] The film along with a version at Dubbed Malayalam was released on June 10, 2011 in 1,400 screens worldwide and ran for 50 days in 187 theaters despite a critical unfavorable reception. [17] Prem Rakshith won the Filmfare Award for the best dance choreographer for the song of the film Nath Nath. [18] Religious Plot Guru and martial arts The martial arts expert Bheeshma Narayan takes in Badri, the son of a pastor and trains him to become an efficient warrior and protector of the Temple of Badrinath. He soon met Alakananda, an agnostic woman who launches in the river of the same name as punishment to blow a lamp to the temple, especially after having cured his grandfather. She saves him after Bheeshma, convinced by her grandfather, Alakananda is ordered to light one lakh lamps as punishment, which Badri convinces her to do with devotion. Her grandfather reveals that she has become a After seeing his parents die in a temple fire, and he was raised to become the object of hatred by Sarkar's wife, a feared Don. Since she wants to get Alakananda married to her son Nani as a form of revenge, Badri resumes the challenge of reviving his faith in God. He falls for him after performing Pind Daan for his parents. Later, Badri is summoned by Bheeshma to protect the temple of Amarnath whose protector has been killed. After killing all the terrorists with his sword, Badri is introduced publicly by Bheeshma. Alakananda, whose faith in God has also been revived, meets Badri's parents who accept their marriage, but are caught in a dilemma when Bheeshma tells them that Badri must remain single for success. Alakananda is heartbroken, but Badri promises to join her with her lover, not knowing that it is him, helping her to offer a Brahma Lotus, to recover who travel in the mountains. On the other hand, Sarkar's family learns the badri from the film of Amarnath accidents and sends Nani to retrieve Alakananda after Badri dies. The band attacked Badri and Alakananda as they ran against the weather to reach the temple, but Badri looked at her from them and allowed her to enter the temple and make her wish. He demands Badri as his lover while Bheeshma demands him as his successor. Meanwhile, Badri is distracted after Nani throws a statue into the river, which Badri recovers after jumping in and killing the outlaws. He is however stabbed by Nani at the filling of the statue and is accused of being in love with Alakananda. This shock Bheeshma, whose suspicion grows further as he looks at Akakananda taking away and Badri gaining consciousness to call his name. The temple is temporarily closed for six months, during which the badgers recover and Alakananda is engaged to Nani after Sarkar kills her grandfather. Write a letter to Badri for that Bheeshma receives and tears apart, but is located from Badri and answered with the mountain land he used to cure his grandfather. Sarkar and his family learn from a guru that marriage is not meant to happen. Alakananda tries to escape with his friend Razia, but is captured and only the latter manages to escape, convincing Badri to sneak to Bellary and extract Alakananda. However, in the absence of him and Bheeshma, Sarkar leads his scagnozzi to Badrinath and destroys the ashram, while Badri himself massacres the scagnozzi at Bellary train station and impals Nani before saving Alakananda. Seeing the ashram in ruins and realizing that Badri carried his sword with him only for religious protection, an angry Bheeshma ordered Badri to leave Badrinath after he arrived with Alakananda. But when Sarkar, his wife and his henchmen arrive in Badrinath to abducte Alakananda, Badri the delivery and reveals that he wants to keep his promise and that he has never tried anything for her, but to have dedicated his life to his mentor. Bheeshma asks Badri's apologies and allows him to pray before Alakananda reveals that he loves Badri, who is untouchable while being taken away. However, Bheeshma is moved by the love of Alakananda for Badri and orders him to live for her. Badri kills the scagnozzi and defeats Sarkar after a knife duel, saving him on condition that he never chases Alakananda in the future. Badri and Alakananda are blessed by all at the temple, and before leaving Bheeshma asks them to deliver their future child for training. Allu Arjun plays Badri Tamannaah as Alakananda, the love interest of Badri Prakash Raj as Sarkar Ashwini Kalsekar as the wife of Sarkar Rakesh Varre as Nani, the son of Sarkar Bramhanandam Batting Baba Pragueti as Razia, maid of Alakananda Tanikella Bharanief Alakananda's father M. S. Narayana in the role of master Chupke Rao Ramesh Bharath Sudha Goetha Singh Dharmavarapu Dharmavarapu Krishna Bhagavan Raghu Babu as the custodian of Alakananda Venu Madhav Production Allu Arjun grew hair for his warrior look in the film. [necessary citation] Certified release A (only adults) by the Central Committee of Film Certification due to the violence of graphic action.[19] the film released theatrically together with its Malayalam version doubled to 10June 2011. Home Video Aditya Music has published the film on DVD and Blu-ray formats. [20][21] Reception Critical Reception Noting it as a love story from the point of view of a girl, Idlebrain. com gave the film three stars on five, praising Arjun, music, cinema, places, artistic direction and production values. However, he felt that the director could not properly understand the action and the emotional aspects, noting further the development of the film and the narrative was "not grasping". [22] 123Telugu. com gave the film 2.5 stars on 5, slipping different sequences between Badri and Alakananda, performance, visual, a comedy track and some of the action sequences for praise. However, the reviewer felt disappointed with the whole second to half, criticizing the bad guy, a comic scene involving Chiranjeevi, Madhul K. Atchi Reddy, Chandrabose, Chinni Krishna, Chaitanya Prasad, Pokuri Babu Rao, etc., were prominent figures in the audio function. K. Raghuradri Rao and Chiranjeevi released the audio CDs and presented the first copy to S. S. Rajamoli and V. V. Vinayak. Allu Aravind has released the trailers. [28] Track list.
